

Visit America's scenic prisons.

*America is well known for its unwavering dedication to antiterrorism, its vast open spaces, and its energetic city life. What few realize is that America boasts, in fact, the highest per-capita prison population in the world.

That's right. America routinely surpasses such popular destinations as the Russian Federation, China, Cuba, and every other nation on the planet. Don't be fooled by the slander of the free. We're at the top of the game.

America: Prison Capital of the World